

About Free Film Festivals

Free Film Festivals is a community group formed to promote free film screenings in neighbourhood venues.

We are entirely not-for-profit and run by volunteers. Events are funded thanks to our partnerships with community organisations and other supporters.

The South Norwood and Thornton Heath Free Film Festival is now in its second year. As well as a range of film screening this year includes themed events such as a Northern Soul music night, roller disco and film quiz. Unfold this leaflet for more information.

There are currently seven other Free Film Festivals across Britain – for more information see freefilmfestivals.org
